Dear John:

I appreciate your sending on to me a copy of your most interesting report of 26 December 1951. We have gone over this with great care and had it studied here by those more expert in the situation than am I.

You can be sure that we take the closest possible interest in this problem and realize that this is one of the most sensitive areas and that we cannot afford to overlook any possibilities. If you have some concrete suggestions as to how we could, or should, step up our side of the work, I should be very glad to have them.

Love to Irena.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles

MEMORANDUM FOR: Assistant Director, Current Intelligence

FROM : Deputy Director Central Intelligence

SUBJECT : 25X1

25X1

1. I enclose a copy of a letter from my sister with regard to who, I understand, has been offered a job with you. She tells me that is an excellent fellow and that they will not place any objection in the way of his departure if he wants to go. She is somewhat doubtful, however, if he will accept a GS-13, which is his present grade with NPA.

2. I told her we did not proselytize or try to lure people away with an offer of higher classification.

CONFIDENTIAL

Mr. Allen Dulles
Central Intelligence Agency
Department of State
Washington 25, D. C.

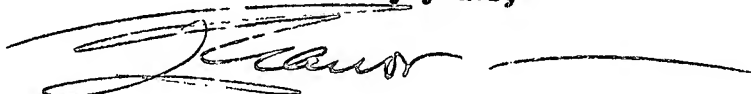

Dear Allen:

I would appreciate it if you find it possible to forward this note to the appropriate officer in your agency. It relates to one of my colleagues, [redacted] of the Foreign Division, NPA. He has been with us for some months and is an efficient, highly valued member of the organization.

25X

We understand that he has been offered employment in the CIA. We do not know what particular assignment has been discussed for him. Our position here is that he is doing work at a level above that of his present classification. However, if it is clear that he would be of more service in your organization, we would not stand in the way of his transfer. We would be reluctant, however, to have him take a position at his present classification, since he is now carrying responsibilities at a higher level and can be given such a higher classification here in due course. I have no knowledge of the type of work he would do with you. It seems to me, however, that it might be well to have our judgment in this case brought to the appropriate officer in your organization.

Cordially yours,

Eleanor L. Dulles
Special Assistant to
Director, Foreign Division
